WORSHIP TIMES

Saturday @ 5:00 pm

Sunday @ 10:30 am (thru 6/15/25)

Sunday @ 9:30 am (effective 6/22/25)

“Born Again to a Living Hope”

This is the theme for the 101st Convention of the Eastern District happening this month. It is based on the verse from 1 Peter 1:3, “Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! According to his great mercy, he has caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead”. Every three years we gather with the other 120 congregations of the district to proclaim this truth as the body of Christ!

District President John Pingel has some words to share with us about our time and ministry together as a District: “We live in a time of unprecedented change and challenges. Nevertheless, we are filled with invincible hope. This hope is given expression in our Convention theme: “Born Again to a Living Hope”, based on I Peter 1:3. The world changes, ever more rapidly, in ways we could never have imagined--and yet God’s word remains true and powerful. Through Baptism, people are being brought into the kingdom of God’s Son. As the Lord’s Supper is celebrated, God’s people receive Christ’s very body and blood for the forgiveness of sins and are preserved in the one true faith. Through the Means of Grace, we are strengthened and equipped for service in Jesus’ Name. Friends in Christ, do not succumb to the prevailing despair and cynicism of this age. “Christ is Risen! He is Risen indeed!” We have a living and invincible hope, says Peter, through the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. Hope has to do with the future. Because Christ lives we as individuals have a future. Our churches have a future. This does not mean that things will remain exactly as they have been. We are challenged to find new and creative ways of reaching out and doing ministry. But we do so with joy in our hearts, for “Christ has died, Christ is Risen, Christ will come again.” There is joy in the task.”

He's right, there is joy in the task of figuring out the plans God has for us in the future. For us at Trinity God has called us to the remarkable work of ministering to our community right here in West Seneca. For 175 years (longer than the district has been around!) we have sought to share the living hope that we have with our friends and neighbors and it is always good to receive a reminder of that and join with others in proclaiming his glory.

God’s Blessings,

Pastor Nyck

Trinity School News

Thank You to Our Volunteers!

As the school year comes to a close, we want to extend a heartfelt thank you to all the church members who generously gave their time and talents to support Trinity Christian School. Whether you helped in the classroom, chaperoned a field trip, assisted with events, or prayed faithfully for our students and staff, your presence made a meaningful impact. Your partnership has been a beautiful reflection of Christ's love, and we are truly grateful for the way you've poured into the lives of our students this year.

End of Year Field Trips

There are so many field trips coming up in the next few weeks. Here is what is going on at the school:

- 5th and 6th grade are doing a walking tour of architecture downtown and Canalside
- 7th and 8th are headed to Albright Knox and a downtown tour, and then to Washington DC for their class trip
- 2nd-4th are going to the Naval Park at Canalside

Please keep the teachers and students in your prayers as they venture out to learn in the community!

School Musical - "Annie Kids!"

What a fantastic job our students did in their production of Annie Kids on Friday, May 2! Both the 1:00 PM and 7:00 PM performances were filled with energy, heart, and incredible talent. We are so proud of the hard work our students put in alongside Mrs. Anderson to bring this beloved musical to life. Thank you to everyone who came out to support our performers—you helped make it a truly unforgettable day!

Annual Fund Update

Thanks to the incredible generosity of our Trinity community, we accomplished the $10,000 Matching Challenge—raising a total of $20,000 in just one week! This donation was made in honor of Wayne Meissner, a proud alum of the Class of 1960 who deeply loved Trinity Christian School. His legacy continues to inspire us, and we are so grateful for the outpouring of support that made this possible.

LCES Grants Awarded to the School

We are thrilled to share that Trinity Christian School has been awarded two generous grants from the Lutheran Church Extension Society (LCES)! The first grant of $3,000 will go toward our scholarship fund, helping ensure that every family has the opportunity to afford a quality, Christ-centered education. The second grant, totaling $5,400, will provide vital support for our full-time teachers to attend the Lutheran Educator's Association Convocation in St. Louis this October—a valuable time of professional growth, encouragement, and connection with fellow Lutheran educators. We are deeply grateful to LCES for their continued partnership and investment in the mission of Trinity Christian School. Sarah Gabel will be attending the LCES dinner in June to accept the grant and report on last year's grant.

STEPHEN MINISTRY DEVOTION

Ministry from Afar

When we were torn away from you for a short time (in person, not in thought), out of our intense longing we made every effort to see you. For we wanted to come to you—certainly I, Paul, did, again and again.

1 Thessalonians 2:17–18a

Stephen Ministry is, by nature, in-person care. When your care receiver is hurting, there is no substitute for being fully present with him or her—physically, mentally, emotionally, and spiritually. Likewise, many other parts of a congregation's ministry, such as coming together to worship, are also typically done in person.

During this time of social distancing, though, being physically present with others isn't possible. To preserve the safety of those they serve, churches everywhere—and the Stephen Ministry at these churches—are having to make some challenging adjustments, ministering from afar much more than usual.

The Example of Paul

The Apostle Paul often needed to minister over a distance as well, which he did through his many letters to scattered groups of Christians. Through these letters, we can gain insight into how Paul related to believers when he couldn't actually be with them.

Most scholars believe that Paul's earliest surviving letter is the one we know as 1 Thessalonians. This letter demonstrates some important principles to keep in mind in this challenging time.

First, Paul's ministry was built on in-person relationships. Because of his prior, face-to-face ministry, Paul could tell the Thessalonians, "We loved you so much that we were delighted to share with you not only the gospel of God but our lives as well” (2:8a). These relationships were built on Christ-centered love and compassion. That same foundation helps us keep our relationships strong when, for a time, we can’t meet face to face.

Second, we learn from 1 Thessalonians that ministering from afar was not Paul’s first choice. He says, “When we were torn away from you for a short time (in person, not in thought), out of our intense longing we made every effort to see you. For we wanted to come to you—certainly I, Paul, did, again and again” (2:17–18a). We can take comfort in knowing that Paul, too, found it challenging to be apart from those he cared for. But when it became necessary to minister over distance, he did so wholeheartedly, using the tools he had to address this growing church’s needs. For us, although caring from afar may not be ideal, we can accomplish real ministry using the tools available to us.

Third, while Paul’s letters met real needs, he always looked forward to meeting his fellow believers again. He wrote 1 Thessalonians, in part, to comfort the church following the deaths of some in the faith community (4:13–14). Even as he offered that care, though, he expressed his eagerness for the day he could support them in person: “Night and day we pray most earnestly that we may see you again and supply what is lacking in your faith” (3:10). We, too, can look ahead to the time we will meet our care receivers in person once more.

In Anticipation of Coming Together Again

If Paul were here today, we can only imagine how he might make use of the devices and apps we have now, just as he made extensive use of letters in his own time. Of course, these tools wouldn’t be a replacement for his in-person ministry, but they could still serve as a powerful means of ministry between visits—or at times when visits just weren’t an option.

Ministry From Afar

Likewise, we can be grateful for the technologies we have today that enable us to stay connected with our care receivers when we are not able to be physically present with them. And we can seek to use those tools in the best ways possible, anticipating the time when we can resume our in-person care.

Here's a prayer we can all join in saying during this time.

Prayer

Lord God, the Scriptures say that when we call, you answer. You are always there for us, hearing and responding to every thought and every need. Thank you for the privilege and power of providing in-person care, as well as for ways to stay connected when we can't be physically present. Guide us during this unique time, helping us exercise wisdom and discernment in using the communication tools available today. Amen.

Hope Willert's Mission Work in Zambia April Update

Ministry

Hi, everybody!

I hope you are all doing well. This month has been a bit of a different month, as we have been on term break for most of it. We have been working hard at preparing for the next term, which begins on May 12th and goes until the beginning of August. I have been working on creating activities and units for the students, such as a money unit, as you can see in the first picture, as well as Tonga (one of the local language) activities, as some of our students only have a limited knowledge of the language. And just for fun, I included a few extra pictures from the last few days of school at the beginning of the month. : )

This month we have had a lot going on with Youth House, and it has been an absolute blast. We had a two-day youth retreat with 39 youth. On the first day the youth came bright and early and we began by playing some games, and then had several teachings throughout the day. The theme of the retreat was identity, so each speaker focused on how they have their identity in Christ and how the youth can live into their identity in Christ, as well.

The next day we took all of the kids to Victoria Falls in Livingstone, which was AMAZING! For most of them it was their first time seeing the falls, even though they live only a few hours away from it. It was so beautiful to witness the kids seeing and experiencing the falls for the first time. The joy on their faces was unforgettable. We walked along the path by the falls singing worship songs in their local language and it was the most surreal experience. How absolutely incredible an experience to be able to bring these beautiful, special youth to one of God's incredible creations and sing His praises while the falls thunders around us and we are showered with mist! It was definitely an experience that I will never forget. I wish I could convey these moments to you in a better way, but these pictures will have to do.

Life Update

In April we had Rally Week, which is a week where the staff at Poetice joins together to be poured into and to grow closer together. We had sessions where we learned, times of worship, and games and competitions. It was great to be able to take a break from our every-day work and focus on growing together and listening to what God has to say to us as a team.

I have been working on continuing to be disciplined and consistent when it comes to spending time with God. As I said in my February update, I wanted to be waking up early to spend time with God every morning, and I would like you all to know that I am doing much better with this! Every morning that I have work I make sure to set my alarm earlier than I need to so that I am able to have my quiet time. While I really struggle with waking up early, it has been so worth it and I have loved having time with my Father every day before I get into the craziness of life.

I am also still working on noticing all of the little blessings and beautiful moments that God has placed throughout each day, as I talked about in last month's update. I am loving this practice, as it really helps me to stay more present with God throughout each moment.

This month what I have been pondering and what I feel like God as been teaching me is that He created me beautifully and uniquely, so I should live into that. I tend to struggle with comparing myself to others and feeling the need to change who I am to adapt to the people that I am around. But this month there have been several instances and moments that have reminded me that God did not create me to be a copy of anyone else, He created me to be Hope. He made me uniquely so that I could live into who He made me to be, not so that I could try to change myself. He especially spoke this to me at the youth retreat when we were talking about identity, and God reminded me that I am His design. So, I am thinking and praying about this a lot as well as trying to really live into who God has made me to be.

Prayer Requests

- Please pray for myself and the other teachers as we begin Term 2 - that God would give us renewed energy and motivation and also that He would be with the students as they return to learn and to be poured into more.
- Please pray for me as I am still very exhausted and finding it hard to get through work days because of this level of exhaustion.

Thank you all so much for your prayers and support! None of this would be possible without each one of you. Feel free to email me if you have any questions, comments, or just want to chat!

Blessings,
